County Supervisors Hear Road Report

Timber Sales Produce $8,391

The Appomattox County Board of Supervisors spent a busy Friday morning covering many topics, with a wide variety of reports and requests received from officials and private individuals.

State Dept. of Highways resident engineer C. M. Clarke presented a report from the Board of Viewers of Appomattox, giving a list of the road additions and improvements to the secondary road system approved by that board, plus a list of road additions and improvements requests which were not approved.

W. C. "Chuck" Stanley, state forest superintendent, presented to Appomattox county, through the board of supervisors, a check for 1968-1969 timber cutting proceeds totaling $8,391.63.

This amount is Appomattox County's share of timber sales from the Appomattox-Buckingham state forest lands and is paid to the county in lieu of taxes on these tax-free state properties.

The superintendent explained that this check represents a return of 86¢ per acre on the acreage within Appomattox County limits and is about three times what the average timber land is producing for the county in the way of taxes.

In other action Roy A. Moon, president of the Chamber of Commerce, requested the board to contribute $250 as the county's share of costs of printing 100,000 Appomattox brochures. He explained that the 100,000 printing represents an estimated two year supply. He said, further, that the Chamber of Commerce, through its dues-paying members, is paying the bulk of the expense, more than $1,000, and will solicit funds from the Town of Appomattox, also. The town of Pamplin has already sent in $50.

He said that the Virginia Travel Council has distributed 25,000 brochures this season, and that requests for information about Appomattox continue to pour into the Chamber of Commerce. Many of these requests are from people seeking retirement property or development property, Moon said.

The Board agreed to pay $250, the same amount paid in a similar request two years ago when the first Appomattox brochure was produced.

Sheriff L. L. Stanley and deputy sheriff Gene Richardson asked that supervisors request Commonwealth's Attorney Harry Gordon Lawson to prepare an ordinance requiring all OUT-OF-COUNTY door - to -door salesmen to register with the sheriff's office before starting out on their solicitation.

Speaking later, after the conference with the supervisors, Gene Richardson said, "We're

Sgt. John M. Dixon, II

Dixon Awarded Silver Star

Sp4 John Dixon, U.S. Infantry Ranger, has been awarded a Silver Star because of gallantry in action in Vietnam. Official notice of the award has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dixon, Gladstone, Virginia.

The award, given by authority of the President of the U.S. and through the office of Sp4 Dixon's commander, Colonel R. G. Gard, Jr., Chief of Staff, was accompanied by official reasons for the presentation. The accompanying paper states: "For gallantry in action involving close combat with an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam: Specialist Four Dixon distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous actions on March 25, 1969 while serving as a rifleman with Company E 75th Infantry (Ranger) on a hunter-killer mission in Long An Province. When a Viet Cong platoon attacked his night position, Specialist Dixon exposed himself boldly to return fire. As the battle raged, a rocket propelled grenade hit his position, wounding him and knocking his weapon from his hands. Ignoring the wounds he sustained from the explosion, Specialist Dixon crawled under heavy hostile fire to recover his weapon; then, perceiving an advantageous position from which to engage the enemy, he crawled an additional 30 meters. When two of his comrades were wounded, Specialist Dixon selflessly returned to his original position to aid them. He continued to fight until the enemy was crushed. Specialist Four Dixon's extraordinary heroism in close combat with an armed hostile force is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, the 9th Infantry Division and the United States Army.

Sp4 Dixon, an a Ranger, is a part of the Army's special forces. He has been in combat since the first week he arrived in Vietnam. A troop pallor made it impossible for him to be granted the "R & R" leave (rest and recreation) given to most of the combat troops, so Dixon will be staying in Vietnam and in action for the present. He was recently promoted to Sergeant. He will have many medals to bring home — he is now entitled to wear the US Air Medal, Purple Heart (two such awards) the Silver Star, another Air Medal, plus four ACM awards by the Republic of Vietnam.

Second Democratic Primary Set Tuesday

Appomattox county voters will be going to the polls Tuesday, August 19, in the second Democratic Primary election of the year.

Facing each other in a run-off election for the candidacy for Governor of Virginia are William C. Battle, of Charlottesville and William C. Howell, of Norfolk.

For Attorney General of Virginia, the race for the Democratic nomination is between Guy O. Farley, Jr., of Fairfax, and Andrew P. Miller, of Richmond.

The polls will open on Tuesday at 6 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m. Electoral judges and clerks will be at each of the ten precincts in the county.

The ballot for this second primary contains only two choices for each of the two offices: that of Governor of Virginia and two choices for Attorney General of Virginia.

A total of 1466 votes were cast in the county in the first primary, Tuesday, July 15. Following that primary, the top man in the state, William C. Battle defeated Henry E. Howell by a close margin and Howell asked for and was granted the run-off election.

J. Sargeant Reynolds carried the state on July 15 with a comfortable margin to make him the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor of Virginia.

In the race for Attorney General of Virginia, Andrew P. Miller received the largest number of votes in July, with Guy O. Farley close enough to ask for a run-off.

Jaycee Baseball Grand Slam Coming September 6th

It's "Jaycee Baseball Grand Slam" time again and the Appomattox Jaycees are busy preparing for what they hope will be an even bigger, and better event again this year.

"Jaycee Baseball Grand Slam" is open to all boys age 8 thru 13 as of September 6th, and offers competition in running, hitting and throwing a baseball. The contest will be sponsored entirely by the Appomattox Jaycees thru funds obtained during annual profit making projects. The contest will be held Saturday, September 6, 1969 at the Appomattox High School Football Field. The program is scheduled to begin at 1:00 p.m. and the Jaycees urge all boys in this age group to participate.

Incidently, there will be no cost involved for the participants or their parents.

The rules governing each event are as follows:

Running: Each boy will be clocked for the time it takes to circle the bases (on a sixty foot baseball layout.) The time in seconds, subtracted from 100 will constitute the score. Each boy will get one trial. If he fails to touch all bases, he is disqualified for that event.

Throwing: Each boy gets two trials. The longest throw will be recorded. A reasonable distance for a three or four step running approach will be allowed. If a boy steps over the starting line, that throw is disqualified.

Batting: Each boy will get one warm-up swing which is not measured, and two swings which constitute his trial at bat. The Longest hit will be recorded. If the boy does not make contact with the ball during his two swings, his trial is ended, and no score is recorded for this event. All batting will be done off a batting tee.

No baseball spikes may be worn in the contest. Sneakers are recommended, but street shoes will be allowed. Awards will be presented to the first and second place winners in each of the six age groups.

So fellows, cut out the baseball Grand Slam official scorecard which appears in this newspaper, fill it out and bring it with you September 6th.

Farm Bureau Enjoys Picnic

Brief showers on Saturday afternoon didn't slow down the Farm Bureau picnickers one bit . . . farmers, their families and friends turned out with the usual wonderful fare of fried chicken, chocolate cake, home made pies — and home made ice cream, too — all at Holiday Lake under the large shelter beside the lake where this picture was made. Farm Bureau county president John Hix introduced special guests which included Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Williamson (he is Central District, field man.), Mr. Herbert Goodman, agency manager for Farm Bureau insurance, and Elon Baptist Church (Pamplin) pastor, the Reverend Mr. Ray Harley who gave the invocation for the dinner. Mrs. Harley also attended. The Farm Bureau Woman's Committee Auxiliary also had on display an American flag and several types of fire extinguishers for home and automobiles which they offer for sale year-round.
